Technology is dramatically changing the landscape of the criminal law. In the hands of both criminals and law enforcement, computers challenge individuals’ privacy and security, create new obstacles in trial practice for prosecutors and defense attorneys, and test the limits of our Constitution. This Symposium explores how the criminal justice system is evolving in response to the increasing use of computers and other technology to both commit and fight crime.

10:30 AM: Opening Remarks

11:00 AM - 12:30 PM: A Balancing Act - Preventing Cybercrime While Protecting Individual Rights

Moderator: Joshua Kleinfeld, Assistant Professor of Law, Northwestern University School of Law

David Gray, Associate Professor of Law, University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law

David Thaw, Visiting Assistant Professor of Law, University of Connecticut School of Law, Fellow of the Information Society Project, Yale Law School

David Glockner, Managing Director, Stroz Friedberg LLC; Former Chief, Criminal Division, United State's Attorney's Office, Northern District of Illinois

Kenneth Dort, Partner in Intellectual Property and Chair of Technology Committee, Drinker Biddle & Reath, LLP

12:30 PM - 1:00 PM: Lunch

1:00 PM - 2:30 PM: Cybercrime in the Courtroom - Investigation and Trial Practice in a Networked World

Moderator: Jeffrey Urdangen, Clinical Assistant Professor of Law, Northwestern University School of Law; Director, Center for Criminal Defense
Brian Brusokas, Special Agent, Federal Bureau of Investigation

David Glockner, Managing Director, Stroz Friedberg LLC; Former Chief, Criminal Division, United State's Attorney's Office, Northern District of Illinois

Beth Jantz, Attorney, Federal Defender Program, Northern District of Illinois

Margaret Ogarek, Deputy Supervisor, Child Advocacy and Protection Unit, Cook County State’s Attorney’s Office

William Ridgway, Assistant United States Attorney, Northern District of Illinois; Lecturer in Law, University of Chicago Law School

The Honorable James B. Zagel, United States District Court, Northern District of Illinois

2:30 PM - 3:00 PM: Break

3:00 PM - 4:30 PM: Surveillance and the Fourth Amendment after United States v. Jones

Moderator: Ronald J. Allen, John Henry Wigmore Professor of Law, Northwestern University School of Law

Derek Bambauer, Associate Professor of Law, University of Arizona James E. Rogers College of Law

Thomas Crocker, Distinguished Associate Professor of Law, University of South Carolina School of Law

Stephen E. Henderson, Professor of Law, University of Oklahoma College of Law

Andrew Taslitz, Professor of Law, American University Washington College of Law

4:30 PM - 6:00 PM: Cocktail Reception (Thorne Lobby)

Contact Symposium Editor Lily Katz with questions about the 2013 Symposium.